Good day Gianine / Sandra,

I hope you and the team are well.

You are receiving this note because I am in search of my next move and want to raise my availability to your attention. Attached is my current resume.

I have no expectations, rather, I'm putting myself out there to see what unforeseen opportunities may exist that I would have otherwise missed out on. Furthermore, I have a great deal of respect and admiration for what your team is accomplishing, and if there were an opportunity for me to support your business' growth, I'd be encouraged to explore those possibilities if you felt my skills sets were a good fit for your business objectives.

At this point in my life and career, I want to make sure whatever I am working on and committed to, that I am happy. Having the opportunity to more deeply support our communities would be an exciting move for my career and steps I would be confident to take with your team.

Please let me know if you have any questions or suggestions. Otherwise, are there any potential opportunities we could discuss? If so, please pass along some details and let me know a day / time that works well for a phone call.

Thanks in advance for the consideration.

Respectfully,

--
